

The Permanent Mission of Austria to the United Nations and the Institute for International Law and Justice at New York University School of Law cordially invite you to participate in a

PANEL DISCUSSION

on the theme

“WHO NEEDS RULES? - The prospects of a rules-based international system”

on

Thursday, May 5, 2005
3:00 pm to 5:30 pm

at the

Dag Hammarskjöld Library Penthouse United Nations, New York

Welcome: H.E. Mr. Jean Ping (President of the 59th UN General Assembly)

Panelists: Professor Martha Finnemore (George Washington University)
The changing importance of rules and rule-enforcement in a unipolar world.

Professor Benedict Kingsbury (New York University School of Law)
The rules and institutions of accountability.

Professor Gerhard Hafner (University of Vienna, Austria)
The relevance of rules for international organizations.

Dr. Abiodun Williams (Director, Strategic Planning, EOSG)
New rules for new threats? – Reform of the United Nations.

Moderator: Dr. Simon Chesterman (New York University School of Law)

Supported in part by a grant from Carnegie Corporation of New York.